THE MAN WHO KNOCKED OUT WILLIAM J. BRYAN

G. M. HITCHCOCK.

G. M. Hitchcock has finally knocked out W. J. Bryan. Years ago Hitchcock was one of Bryan's warmest supporters. He wanted to be Senator from Nebraska and Bryan would not endorse him. They have not been on the kindest terms in State politics since, although Hitchcock has consistently supported Mr. Bryan in national campaigns. At Omaha Hitchcock put through a rule which shut out Bryan from defending his local option policy in the convention. Mr. Hitchcock is the editor of the Omaha World-Herald and a member of Congress.

NO ARRESTS MADE IN BOUSMAN CASE

Identity of Murderers Is Still a Mystery—Rescued From Freight Car.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Danville, Va., July 29.—Reports today from Ridgeway, Henry county, are that no arrests have been made in the murder of Mayor A. H. Bousman, who was killed with dynamite at his home Sunday night, and that nothing has developed that throws any light on the identity of the guilty party or parties. Two more sticks of dynamite were found yesterday in the bushes about fifty yards from the hammock in which Mayor Bousman was lying when assassinated. The sticks of dynamite had not been capped, and they were about the same size and brand generally used in mining operations.

A white man was taken from a box car in the Southern Railway yards here today in a famished and half-starved condition, after having been held a prisoner three days. The man got into the car, which was loaded with several hogheads of tobacco in Washington, and it was by the merest chance he was found here. But for the discovery he would probably have died, as the car is due to go on through to Savannah. He is being cared for at the police station.

Prof. P. E. Eggleston, principal of the Drake's Branch High School, had the misfortune to have his suit case stolen at the passenger station several days ago. The suit case was discovered here today in a clump of bushes along the river bank, having been cut open with a knife and the contents taken out. Professor Eggleston put the suit case on the platform to mail a letter, and when he returned for it found it missing. There is no clue to the thief.

Mrs. Lydia M. McCormick, who resides near Scottsville, will celebrate her 100th birthday August 8. Her children and grandchildren are planning to have a family reunion at the old home place on that date. Several from this city will attend.

GIFT OF SILVER MADE TO JULIAN H. MORRIS

Albemarle Friends Show Appreciation of His Victories at Recent London Horse Show.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Charlottesville, Va., July 29.—Victors of horse flesh throughout Virginia will recall the splendid victories recently won by Julian Morris's hunters and jumpers at the London horse show. Against competition, international in scope, they captured the world's championship in the hunter class, and landed second and third in several important classes. Here in Albemarle those among his personal friends, who recognized the full significance of his victories, decided to present him with some token of cordial appreciation. The desire was happily effected last night, when Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Crawford, were entertaining informally. The token presented to Mr. and Mrs. Morris was an exquisite piece of Tiffany silver—a pitcher some eighteen inches in height, of graceful shape and decorated with chaste and beautiful designs. The inscription tells in brief of the brilliant victories in London, and of their cordial recognition here at the home of the master and mistress of "The Oaks."

DAVID CALLENDER DIES IN 80TH YEAR

Death After Long Illness of Prominent Citizen of Petersburg.

TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL

Massachusetts Veterans of Civil War to Visit City.

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
109 Sycamore Street,
Petersburg, Va., July 29.

David Callender, one of Petersburg's oldest and most respected citizens, died at his residence on Jefferson Street, last night at 11:45 o'clock, in the eightieth year of his age. For some months past his health had been gradually declining. Mr. Callender was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and came to this country in 1851, making his home in Petersburg, where he lived to the time of his death.

Mr. Callender married Miss Bessie Meade, of Prince George county, who survives him with four children, Mrs. N. B. Patterson and Mrs. Charles Constable, of Petersburg; Dr. J. Meade Callender, of New York, and David Callender, of Norfolk.

Mr. Callender was a man of sterling worth and integrity, and of consistent Christian character. He was for many years an elder in the Second Presbyterian Church, and was the last survivor of the earnest and devoted men who organized that church nearly three score years ago. He was a man of splendid business capacity, and for several years was the agent in this city of the Eltrick and Matoca Cotton Manufacturing Companies, when the products of those factories were favorably known, both in this country and abroad. The funeral will take place from the Second Presbyterian Church to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon, at 5 o'clock.

A Fine Tuberculosis Hospital.
Petersburg, which a year or more ago established the first tuberculosis hospital in the State, is about to enlarge and extend its usefulness in that line of needed relief. Through the aid and support of liberal-hearted citizens the "Hill Crest Settlement" was organized and established for the reception and care of tuberculosis patients.

The "settlement," located on "The Heights," in the southern and most elevated section of the city, was strictly a charitable institution, no charges being made against those who sought its advantages and accommodations, until its quarters became too contracted.

A Beautiful Site Purchased.
Within the last several days in order to enlarge its accommodations and usefulness, the "Hill Crest Settlement" Association has purchased from Captain T. F. Heath the beautiful "Birdville" Farm, on the southern border of the city, a portion of which is really lying in the city, on which to locate a regular tuberculosis hospital, and will take possession of the property in about sixty days. It is designed to make this hospital a strictly charitable institution, and to afford all the relief possible to sufferers with tuberculosis.

The Birdville Farm is delightfully located, and contains an area of twenty acres in a high state of cultivation. It has a dwelling of ten large, airy rooms, and an office building of four rooms, located in a beautiful grove of oak, pine and mimosa trees. It is reached by nice driveways and is adorned with grassy plats and pretty flower beds.

The site is elevated and is within a twelve minutes' walk from the Halifax Street car line. The farm is abundantly supplied with pure spring water, and is well set in fruits of different kinds. The buildings will be put in order for the reception of patients, and enlarged as necessity may require.

Officers of the Association.
The officers of the Hill Crest Settlement Association are: President, Mrs. William R. McKenney; Vice-President, Mrs. William M. Jones; Treasurer, Mrs. Sol. Cooper. Among the members of the board of managers are Mrs. T. F. Heath, Mrs. F. P. Hamilton, Mrs. E. C. Kent, Mrs. J. J. Lawrence, Mrs. F. G. Scott and Mrs. Dr. W. F. Drewry.

The advisory board consists of Hatcher Seward, George Cameron, Jr., Dr. W. F. Drewry, E. C. Kent, W. M. Lewis and T. P. Farrow.

Aided by the City.
After payment for the farm the association has a handsome balance in its treasury. But recognizing the great good to be accomplished by this institution the city makes an annual appropriation of $1,500 to aid in its maintenance to pay for the services of nurses and employees.

Who Owns the Silver?
Officer Thomas Adams, of the Norfolk police, came up to Petersburg today to make inquiries as to the record of Martin White, a negro, under arrest in that city. In White's possession were found sixty silver spoons and forks, which, he said, he had found in a package in the Norfolk and Western station in Petersburg. Each spoon and fork has engraved in the handle the name of "La Fontaine." They are supposed to have been stolen from a hotel or Pullman car, but no such name is known here. The negro, however, is unfavorable known in police circles, and it is said has served time for crimes.

AMATEUR NIGHT PRIZE GOES TO BLIND MUSICIAN

Jeering Audience Won to Enthusiastic Demonstration by Pathetic Song Rendered by Sightless Boy—No Calls for "Hook" When Harold Lawrence Appears.

Among other amateurs who appeared at the Colonial Theatre last night was an eleven-year-old blind boy, whose name is Harold Lawrence. Sandwiched in between the turn of a youngster whose offering consisted of a rendition of the still popular "Kelly," and the graceful evolutions of a tight rope performer, he sang a song, "I Want Somebody to Play With Me." Originally, it isn't much of a song. It has been heard around the picture houses until it has become stale. But it was a great song when this blind boy sang it last night.

When the little fellow was assisted to the centre of the stage by the gentleman in the green uniform who juggles the furniture, waters the grass mats and reads Variety, the house became interested. The child's apparent helplessness appealed. A selection that he played upon the piano was warmly applauded. No act on the regular portion of the bill got a better reception.

But it was when he began to sing that a silence fell over the entire house. In a voice of unusual purity and sweetness the blind boy sang his way into the hearts of a hardened Friday night audience that had assembled mainly for the pleasure of kidding the amateurs. There were no cries for from above, instead there was a great silence while the boy was singing. When he had finished there was a minute when no one stirred. Then there came a burst of applause that shook the house. Professional "kidders" who had seats down front led in the demonstration. Singing this old song that seemed filled with his own loneliness, the blind boy had made a hit.

Harold is the son of James Lawrence, 2129 Park Avenue. He has a natural talent for music and plays several instruments with skill and proficiency. He received his education at the State School for the Blind in Staunton, where he received his first instruction in piano music. He has appeared at the Colonial several times.

TEN BUILDINGS BURN

Lightning Plays Havoc in the Chenango Valley.

Utica, N. Y., July 29.—Within a few miles of the village of Greene last evening ten farm barns were burned by lightning. Most of them were on the sides of the hills that shut in the Chenango Valley and were in plain view of the village. The storm centred over the village, and while no building was burned in the night, several were struck. The barns were all filled with hay, and it is estimated that the combined loss is not far from $30,000.

STRIKERS ATTACK CARS

Presence of Troops Does Not Prevent Rioting in Columbus.

Columbus, O., July 29.—The presence of three regiments of the Ohio National Guard did not deter Columbus rioters, and to-night proved to be the worst since the car strike began. A score of imported employees of the Columbus Railway and Light Company were injured by stones, bricks and other missiles, and by 10 o'clock car service, which had been resumed at 4:30, was suspended, and cars were taken to the barns for the night. Mayor Marshall late to-night said he was disappointed in the aid lent by troops. Promptly on his arrival, Governor Harmon had declared that the militia could not be used for police duty. He declared they should remain in their camps unless summoned to points where rioting broke out. The result was that when nightfall came, the union sympathizers began attacks on cars in all sections of the city. As they did not gather in crowds, there were with two exceptions no mobs to disperse. Before the troops could be summoned cars had been stoned and the guilty persons had made their escape.

Retail merchants will call on Governor Harmon to-morrow to summon the Legislature in special session to provide a compulsory arbitration law.
